

Nyofelleh Lower School in the Gambia

As global citizens within our Rights Respecting School, we feel that it is important to make links with other localities. Therefore, Janet Stains (who collects charitable donations, which she then ships to The Gambia for their schools and hospitals) has kindly introduced us to a member of staff from Nyofelleh Lower School in The Gambia. 6SW have been writing class emails to the school to develop our communications and relationships with the Nyofelleh school so that we can support each other, hopefully over many years. We are excited by this opportunity and regularly share the emails as a whole-school so that, over time, every class will feel more involved with this fantastic school and we can all learn from one another. We will continue to work alongside Janet who is doing an incredible job of supporting the Nyofelleh community and we are very grateful for our parents continued support with this also.

Thanks again!
