

Viking Outfit Suggestions

Overall muted colours (browns, tans and greys) were mostly worn during Viking times. A fur coat is a great instant Viking outfit. Wear it with a belt, rope or a piece of hessian for an instant Viking look. Braids for girls help with the Scandinavian look, a shawl and maybe add a piece of plain fabric worn like a sweat band or bandana for either boys or girls. Snow boots look great and leather laces tied loosely on wrists or over long sleeves.

An old pillowcase with arm holes cut out over a long sleeved top with a fabric, leather or rope belt and plain trousers can give a good Viking look.

If you are feeling more ambitious, the best way to make a homemade Viking vest is to cut up a fake fur jacket. You could get one from either a charity shop or one that is no longer wearable from in your wardrobe. Remove the sleeves. These sleeves can be then used as leg warmers over leggings or trousers. Pair this up with a plain white or black top or jumper and tie a piece of sacking / hessian, a rope or old scarf around the centre as a belt.

Accessorise with interesting jewellery, leather laces over long tops, belts, shawls, scarves that can be used around the waist or shoulders, and even plastic toy helmets - without horns remember (unlike the picture!) and...don't forget your beards (warriors).
